Hunton & Williams LLP's Privacy Team Publishes Several Chapters in 2017 International Comparative Legal Guide to Data Protection

Hunton & Williams announces its participation with the Global Legal Group in the publication of the fourth edition of the book, The International Comparative Legal Guide to: Data Protection 2017. The guide provides corporate counsel and international practitioners with a comprehensive worldwide legal analysis of the laws and regulations relating to data protection. Aaron P. Simpson, managing partner of the firm's London office, and Anita Bapat, senior associate in London, served as the contributing editors of the guide.

Hunton & Williams' global privacy and cybersecurity lawyers prepared several chapters in the guide, including the opening chapter on "All Change for Data Protection: The European Data Protection Regulation," co-authored by London partner Bridget Treacy and associate Anita Bapat. Other team members who contributed include David Dumont (Belgium), Claire François (France), Judy Li (China), Manuel E. Maisog (China), Wim Nauwelaerts (Belgium), Anna Pateraki (Germany), Aaron P. Simpson (United States), Adam Smith (United Kingdom) and Jenna Rode (United States).

Our privacy and cybersecurity practice is known globally for its international scope, depth of experience, breadth of knowledge and outstanding client service. The team is comprised of nearly 30 privacy and data security professionals in the United States, Europe and Asia who respond to corporate data breaches and shape cybersecurity and privacy policy across the globe. The practice is ranked as one of the top privacy and data security practices by Computerworld magazine, Chambers and Partners, and The Legal 500.
