September 30, 2013

Scott Kimpel spoke with several media outlets on the effect of the government shutdown on the US Securities and Exchange Commission, which will continue operating on a temporary basis by using carryover funding from fiscal year 2013, even though a significant number of its staff may be furloughed. Investment News, Law360, and The Texas Lawbook each included similar commentary from Kimpel. His practice encompasses a wide range of matters involving the securities laws, mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, financings, and corporate governance.
